

The Heard Guild Presents
Northern Baja Experience

The People and the Wine

September 17th – 20th, 2016

Accompany Stephen Bernier of South of the Border Tours along with Jesùs Garcia, Education specialist of the Arizona Sonoran Desert Museum for an EdVenture Tour of the native cultures of the Colorado River Delta and Upper Baja Peninsula. In addition, we'll explore the fabulous emerging wine and culinary explosion in the region known as Valle Guadalupe.

Day 1

We'll depart Phoenix for Yuma for a visit to the Cocopah reservation. The Cocopah (Kwapa), also known as the River People, have long lived along the lower Colorado River and delta. For centuries, the Cocopah people, described as generous and non-materialistic, have maintained their traditional and cultural beliefs through the various political environments and ever-changing landscapes. We'll spend the evening in Yuma and enjoy a welcome dinner at a local restaurant.

Day 2

We depart Yuma and cross the border at Tecate BCN. After a quick border crossing we'll make our way to the coast thru spectacular chaparral landscape. Nearly to the Pacific... the Valle Guadalupe opens up, revealing a spectacular alluvial plain with beautiful vineyards and olive orchards. Dozens of wineries have been quietly perfecting their craft and now there is a plethora of amazing wines to discover. We'll visit a few wineries today before making our way to our hotel on the coast. The incredibly scenic hotel Punta Morro, our home for two nights. Oceanside sunset cocktail party with Jesús serenading. Dinner at your leisure.

Day 3

This morning we'll tour Ensenada and the amazing fish market. We'll have time to try some fresh fish tacos along the pier. In the afternoon we'll travel back to the Valle

Guadalupe and meet a number of members of the Kumeyaay culture. There are only 12 surviving North American Kumeyaay bands in the United States that are recognized by the federal government. Four Kumeyaay tribal communities survive south of the border in Baja California, Mexico. For easy and comfort, we'll meet with them in the Valle Guadalupe. They maintain their amazing coiled basket artistry and will have examples for us to buy. Tonight we'll dine at Deckmans organic outdoor kitchen. It shares the property and organic farm with El Mogor winery... Just one of the many fabulous wines we'll be enjoying. Return to hotel afterward.

Day 4

We begin to make our way back to the border with a surprise stop in Tecate before we cross the border. Estimated time of arrival in Phoenix is 7:30 pm
